TUESDAY, APRIL 21, 1863. We call attention to the letter of "FIDLER" which we publish elsewhere. It turns out that our suspicion respecting the "VEDETTE" was correct.

An outcry has been raised against Gen. Burnside's late Order, but not half so great a one as we expected. We don't know whether the tongues of rebel sympathizers are restrained by fear or by some higher and worthier consideration. If we thought a good deal better of them than we do we might probably conclude that they are kept partially in check by a conviction that the Order, though essentially curtailing their tongue-privileges, is obviously | Cluke in that and contiguous counties. THE EMBARGO ON SHIPMENTS .- In our per ambulations yesterday we took occasion broach the subject of a meeting—as suggested by us on Saturday-of the merchants of the city, with a view of raising the embargo which has so prostrated business in this part during the past few months. We found a general disposition on the part of our mercan tile community to favor the idea, but we failed to meet any who could be prevailed upon to move in the matter. We would now | see River. suggest that several of our most prominen merchants meet in committee, and obtain th signatures of all who favor the object, and present them to the Mayor of the city, with the request that a meeting of the mercantile community be called by him, to convene at the Court-house, or some other public place, for the purpose of peti tioning the agent vested with authority t relieve us of this incumbrance, if compatib with the interests of the country. We fee confident that such a voice will be heard by him, and we owe it to the great number of ou people now out of employment to take such steps as may be deemed most advisable to ac complish this important end. The recent sus pension of our tobacco manufacturers be thrown a large number of operatives out of employment, and they are debarred from every other branch of business in consequence of this embargo. If business continues suspend ed much longer we may reasonably expec suffering and want amongst the laboring classes. If the true state of affairs existing in this city at present is properly laid before the official agent of the Government by the body of our merchants, there is every reason to be live that we will be relieved from this apparently unnecessary incumbrance forthwith We trust that every merchant who has any egard for the interests of this place will mov to consummate this great end. PROFESSOR MASON JONES, THE IRISH ORATOR. Professor Mason Jones has just returned from a very pleasant visit to Murfreesboro. He brings very favorable accounts of the condition, spirit, and position of the troops under General Rosecrans.

The Union speaks in the most enthusiasti terms of the lecture on Garibaldi and the Italian Question, delivered by Professor Jones, in Nashville, on Saturday night. We hop that measures will be teken to secure a hearing of this admirable orator in this city. It has been a long time since the people of Louisville have had the opportunity of hearing such an orator as Professor Jones.

CHANGE OF TIME.—The Jeffersonville Rail road makes some changes in its time-tables to take effect this day. The first train, the Cincinnati, St. Louis, and Chicago Express leaves Jeffersonville at 7:30 A. M. The Evening Express, connecting for all Northern and Eastern cities, leaves Jeffersonville at 2:45 P. M., and the Night Express, connecting for the Northeast and West, leaves the other side of the the regard of the regiment, and, invoking the river at 10 P. M. Arrangements have been made by this line to check baggage from our city to all points of connection, thus increas ing the facilities for comfortable travelling.

We are informed that gangs of boys organized into regular bands, prowl about the city of nights, committing all kinds of depredations. We recently heard of a very respect able lady in the city having caught a hopeful young son who had been absent from home for several weeks, having slept in barns during his crusade. This affords an excellent field of operation for our police, and we trust they may avail themselves of it, and silence the many complaints we have heard recently regarding these boys.

SPEAKING IN JEFFERSONVILLE.—Colonel C. L. Dunham speaks in Jeffersonville, Ind., this evening, in Ewing's Hall, on the condition of the country. Col. D. is one of the most elo quent orators in the country, and his speeches are always characterized by sound logic and profound statesmanship. We hope our neighbors will turn out in force this evening and hear this worthy champion of the Union cause.

We have heard bitter complaints against government teamsters racing on Broadway, and we were informed yesterday that a lady with a child crossing the street narrowly escaped death through the wanton recklessnes of these drivers. Will the proper authoritie give this little matter their attention?

Captain Harry McDougal, of the Mississippi flotilla, will leave this city to-morrov for General Grant's headquarters. Any letters for persons connected with the fleet will be delivered by him, if left at Capt. T. M. Erwin's office, before Capt. McDougal's departure.

DANVILLE, April 17, 1863. For the past three weeks I have been trave ling through the central counties of Ken-tucky, and have had an opportunity of ascertaining, to a considerable extent, public sen timent in these counties in regard to the ac-tion and movements of the Union Democrati Convention held on the 18th ult. in your city It affords me high gratification to state, that after the most diligent inquiry in every tow and neighborhood in which I have been, have not found one man who has heretofor been fully identified with the Union part who has not expressed his unqualified approval of the Union ticket, and his determination to use his best efforts and influence to secure its success. I also made inquiry of intelligent gentlemen, whom I met from neighborhood and portions of these counties which I could not personally visit, and they assure me that they know no Union man who would not they know no Union man who would not support the ticket.

The opposition which your "neighbor" is endeavoring to get up against the Union ticket finds no favor or support but with a few disappointed politicians and secessionists. The loyal masses have intelligence enough to see and appreciate the motives which actuat the opposition to the ticket. They regard it a the work of secession and its sympathizers it this State, and are determined to crush it or by giving the Union ticket the largest vo over given at any election in August next.

I had the honor to call on this gifted and distinguished nominee for Governor, Joshus F. Bell, this evening. I found him laboring under severe indisposition, which had confine prevented him from publicly responding to the etter of the President of the Convention in-forming him of his nomination as a candidate I find the secesh sympathizers, as well as appointed politicians, everywhere have anxiety of Mr. Bell's acceptance.

State. I will again, if agreeable to you, give my impressions as to public sentiment as I pass on. TRAVELLER.

To the Editors of the Louisville Journal: LEBANON, KY., April 17, 1863. In yesterday's Democrat there is an artic relative to a paper published "now and then at this place. It might be well for you to say to the people of Kentucky that the paper re to the people of Kentucky that the paper referred to is published by soldiers, supported by them, and intended for them. Its editors are members of the 2d Michigan infantry. No citizen contributes one article for the paper. And our Unionists all condemn, in the strongest terms, the position assumed in the article to which the Democrat refers. We do not suppose that the Democrat desires to impress the Kentucky people with the belief that Kentucky loyalists favor or publish such articles. The regiment referred to is a good one, whose sentiments are embodied in that article prove it.

Capt. Frank Cowan, of the rebel army, was captured in the Federal lines on the 15th inst. Wonder if Burnside's order won't reach him Frank is in rather a precarious situation How came he into the Federal lines? The rebels who came into Columbia the ther day took away with them near $3,000 worth of goods. There was not more that 150 of them. Very truly, FIDLER.
